

My complaint is about the FCC. All they are doing is trying to soffen this country up. Don't even try to give me that junk about "It's about the kids.". Kids today are out of control as it is. The FCC doesn't fine schools for indecency when a kid shoots 20 people. The FCC doesn't get complaints when the national news shows dead troops. But, the FCC does fine radio broadcasters for saying just everyday words. If this nonsense continues, what will happen when an average American citizen wants to complain about a bad driver? The American's rights will be thrown away. Absolutely ridiculous! Another thing the fcc is doing is they are taking our beloved constitution, and eating it up. That's all they are doing. Several months ago, the fcc fined Bubba The Love Sponge for material broadcasting in 2001. And, what year is this? Two thousand four! It's like a guy having unprotected sex, and then three years later getting tested. Before he was fired, Bubba had said he had no problem running a disclaimer before the show clearly stating it was an adult oriented show. Congress had better veto all proposed documents to increase indecency fines P.D.Q, or else, radio will be a thing of the past.
